Thanks for the update. There are many programs named Eraser, do you know where I could find it or the name of the company that makes it or a keyword to search on?

Satoshi

I have had no further problems since I ceased running a daily late evening scheduled operation consisting of a wipe of various folders containing temporary files using Eraser.

Whether this operation accounted for the crashes I don't know, as Eraser has never had that effect before, and typically ignores any file it finds to be in use.

Regards,

Nicholas
